Waitlist Match: guide for Julie and Tanya

Kettle & Stone Massage Therapy · version 1.0 · October 2026

When a client cancels late, Waitlist Match shows up to 3 people from the waitlist who can take the slot and still want it, or "nobody". It runs only on the desk computer. It sends nothing and costs nothing.

1. Install (Julie, once, about 15 minutes)

1. Copy the whole Kettle & Stone Waitlist folder to `C:\KettleStone\Waitlist`. Keep all the folders together.
2. Double-click Install (run once).bat. If Windows shows "Windows protected your PC", click More info, then Run anyway.
3. It adds the Waitlist Match icon to the desktop, sets the morning list for 8:00 on weekdays, and runs the self-check.
4. Save the typed waitlist in the Data folder as `waitlist.csv`, and the latest Kneadly booking export as `appointments-<date>.csv`.
5. Double-click the desktop icon. The home screen should say Ready.

Nothing else is installed. The program comes with its own copy of Python inside the folder. No internet and no account are needed.

2. Every day (Tanya or Bethany)

At 8:00: Morning list

1. The morning list opens by itself when the computer is on.
2. For each overnight cancellation you see in Kneadly or on the voicemail: pick the therapist, the time and the length, then click Find people. About 20 seconds each.
3. Names appear right away. Call the first person before the 9:00 clients arrive.

When someone cancels: Find people for a slot

1. Click the therapist, enter the start time, pick the length. The cancellation time fills in by itself.
2. Click Find people. You get up to 3 names with phone numbers and a short reason, or "nobody".
3. Offer the slot to one person at a time, the one with the green border. Mark what happened: Called (on the phone now) · Voicemail (the next person unlocks after 20 minutes) · Yes (filled) · No (next person).
4. After a Yes: book them in Kneadly and link the new booking to the cancelled one, as you do now.

"Check by hand" people are never offered automatically. They have a word the program could not read, or a booking that may be theirs. Look at their line in the notebook first.

When someone asks to join the list: Add to waitlist

1. Type the phone number first. If they are already in the book, the program shows their line. Adding a new line updates them, and the newest line wins.
2. Type the name and a note in your usual shorthand, for example `any - 60 - AM - not Thurs`, then click Add to the list.

3. Every week

- Julie: save the Friday booking export in the Data folder. The newest file is used.
- Tanya: open Cross-off list and cross those lines out of the notebook. Still waiting? lists people to call before they reach 2 months. Hard to place lists people no opening has fitted; consider offering them a regular booking.
- Julie: look at Unknown words. If a word matters, add it to `settings\shorthand.ini`, for example `josie = Josée Landry`.

4. How it decides

Rule	What it means
Fits the slot	Therapist, day, time, length and notice must all fit what the person asked for. Blank length = 60 minutes. Blank notice = 2 hours.
Clinic rule	Anyone pregnant only sees Amira or Kelsey. A longer slot is fine for someone who wants a shorter one. "90 only" needs a 90-minute slot.
Out of date	No contact for over 2 months; booked since their latest line; moved, number not in service, or asked to be taken off; a date in their note has passed.
Order	Whoever asked first is listed first.
When in doubt	Left out, and shown under "check by hand". A wrong name is never guessed.
Privacy	Health details are never shown on screen and never put in a message.
No-shows	Always "nobody": there is no time to offer them.

5. Settings Julie can change (Notepad)

- `settings\clinic.ini`: therapists, prenatal rule, 2-month limit, defaults, voicemail wait, therapists who want to approve short-notice new clients.
- `settings\shorthand.ini`: words for therapists and days, nicknames, out-of-date phrases.
- `settings\columns.ini`: column names. If Kneadly renames a column, the program stops and says "export has changed, call Julie". Add the new name here.
- `settings\addons.ini`: add-ons, all off until Marc approves.

6. Add-ons (next phase, with Marc's approval)

Add-on	How it turns on
Daily Kneadly report: automatic overnight cancellations, tomorrow's no-show call list, booking checks never more than a day old	Marc switches on the daily report in the owner account. Save the file in the Data folder each morning. The program notices by itself.
Text offers, one at a time	Off. "Preview text" shows the message (clinic name, time, therapist first name, how to reply) but never sends it. Needs a texting service, slot holds and text consent.
Second reminder text	A Kneadly setting. After Julie turns it on, set `kneadly_reminder_on = yes`.
Kneadly Direct (optional subscription)	Needs the higher Kneadly plan. Enter the unlock code under Add-ons, then the connection details from Kneadly support.

7. If something goes wrong

- The home screen says what is wrong in plain words, for example "save this file as CSV" or "export has changed, call Julie".
- Run `setup\Self-check.bat` for a full check.
- Errors are written to `Data\logs\errors.txt`.
- Update: replace the `app` folder. Remove: run `setup\Uninstall.bat`, then delete the folder (keep a copy of Data).
- Backups: include the Data folder in the clinic's normal backup. The program also keeps 30 daily copies of the waitlist in `Data\backups`.
- Privacy: the Data folder holds health details. Keep it on this computer only. Make sure Windows has a password and the screen locks.
